

Year in Review 07-08

The Laboratory developed a streamlined requirements flow-down system to provide employees with clear, concise work direction. The Lab transferred 50 percent of its institutional legacy documents to the new system and expects this transition to be completed by July 31, 2008.

Flow-down system improvements yield clearer work direction